We are very concerned and against the U.S. Department of Labor (DOL) proposing a rule that would take away the current ability of self-directed individual investors to use listed-options in their IRAs.

The financial institutions already have many rules in place to keep novice investors from using options in their accounts.

We don't need the government to regulate this area for us anymore than it has, as it would not be fair to the investors that are more savvy and understand how these options instruments work.
